2016 Conference of County Bar Leaders: The Magic of CCBL!

By John R. Howland, Esq., Immediate Past President, CCBL Executive Committee

County bar leaders and executive directors from across the commonwealth will meet once again at the Nittany Lion Inn on Feb. 25 – 27, 2016 for the Annual Conference of County Bar Leaders (CCBL). Whether you are a member of your county bar association’s board of directors, officer in line for the presidency, committee or section chair, president, county bar executive director, young lawyer leader or are interested in future leadership in your local bar association or the PBA, you will not want to miss the (magic) show! Come one and come all to network, earn CLE credit, and hone your leadership skills in a relaxing and fun setting.

The CCBL was established in 1967 by the PBA to establish a closer relationship between the local bar associations in Pennsylvania, the PBA, and the American Bar Association; to provide a forum for the mutual interchange of ideas among bar associations; to provide training, guidance, resources and assistance to local bar associations and their leaders; to stimulate the work of bar associations generally; and to promote the standing of the legal profession and the Courts, improve the administration of justice, and improve the economic standing of the legal profession.

The CCBL has evolved to foster fresh and innovative local bar initiatives and spread those initiatives throughout the commonwealth. It has helped to develop mutually beneficial relationships among bar leaders and to improve the status of the legal profession generally in Pennsylvania by providing education and training to bar leaders and will continue to do so.

The upcoming conference promises to accomplish all of that and more! CCBL President Joseph A. Curcillo, III, Esq.

and his executive committee have a great agenda planned. Included in the seminars will be sessions on leadership; what to expect in your year as president or officer of your association; a presentation by the PBA Young Lawyers’ Division on professionalism and civility; diversity in the context of LGBT issues; errant judges; time management related to maintaining your law practice and being involved in bar association leadership; the always entertaining, yet informative, live performance and avoiding legal malpractice program; and, back by popular demand, the group sharing session “Bring It On (Again)!”. This theme of this year’s conference is “The Magic of CCBL” and will again focus on leadership. You will have the opportunity to not only earn CLE credit, but also to learn how to be the best leader that you can be for the benefit of your association. There will be plenty of time for networking with friends and colleagues, new and old. Of course, we will have great entertainment for Friday night, where you can relax, dance, play some games, win some prizes, and maybe even take in a magic show. All bar associations, large or small, can benefit by having their leaders attend this worthwhile conference.

Mark your calendars and look for more details in upcoming publications. Talk to your executive director. Invite some of your board members and young lawyers. Be ready to learn, laugh, and look forward to your years in leadership!

Scholarships for Pennsylvania Law Students: Deadline Dec. 1, 2015

This December, the Pennsylvania Bar Foundation will award up to $12,000 in scholarship assistance to Pennsylvania residents attending the nine accredited law schools serving the state. The application deadline is Dec. 1, and the awards will be made prior to the end of the calendar year.

The James W. Stoult Memorial Scholarship of the Pennsylvania Bar Foundation provides three $3,000 scholarships, two of which are specifically dedicated to the support of historically underrepresented minority law students of African-American, Hispanic-American or Native American ancestry. Named after one of the Foundation's most devoted supporters, the James W. Stoult Memorial Scholarship is open Pennsylvania residents in their second year of a fulltime law school program or third year of a part-time program. To be eligible, applicants must be or become law student members of the Pennsylvania Bar Association. PBA membership is free for law students choosing to become electronic members, demonstrate financial need and good academic standing and submit an application that includes: proof of residency, an unofficial copy of a current academic transcript, a maximum of two recommendations, and a 500-word essay that describes how the applicant plans to demonstrate his/her potential for making a contribution to society and the legal profession.

The Joseph T. McDonald Memorial Scholarship of the Pennsylvania Bar Foundation provides a $3,000 scholarship to a fulltime, third year Pennsylvania resident involved in the Penn State Dickinson School of Law trial advocacy program. Foundation Vice President Michael J. McDonald created the Joseph T. McDonald Memorial Scholarship through the Pennsylvania Bar Foundation's Named Scholarship Program in 2011, to honor the memory of his father and to establish a lasting legacy for law students at his alma mater. The scholarship is awarded annually on a competitive basis, and like the Stoult Scholarship, membership in the PBA Law Student Division is required as is the submission of an application that includes: proof of Pennsylvania residency and fulltime enrollment at Penn State Dickinson School of Law, an unofficial copy of a current academic transcript and a maximum of two recommendations that evidence trial advocacy course work and/or interest, and a 500-word essay that discusses how the applicant intends to pursue trial advocacy after graduation.

The Pennsylvania Bar Foundation's Named Scholarship Program can help you or your law related organization help more law students by creating your own scholarship fund within the Pennsylvania Bar Foundation. It's a great way to give back to the legal community, and a fund can be created without making a large and long-term commitment.

The Pennsylvania Bar Foundation is the philanthropic partner of the Pennsylvania Bar Association. It works to improve the public's understanding of the law and the public's access to justice. It accomplishes its mission by raising funds to underwrite grants that teach civics and the Rule of Law to students from kindergarten to college help public interest lawyers better manage their educational debt so they can afford to deliver critical civil legal services to Pennsylvania's most vulnerable and increase the number of attorneys prepared to volunteer their time, expertise and energy to pro bono service.

PBA Members in Unit Counties: Pay PBA Section Dues and Make Other PBA Contributions Online

Changes are coming this year in the method for PBA members in unit counties to pay their PBA section dues and make contributions to other PBA efforts.

As part of the PBA's continuing efforts to "go green," unit county members will receive an email in mid-November that will link directly to an online invoice to join PBA sections and pay section membership dues and/or make contributions to the PABAR-PAC, the PBA Sustaining Fund and the Pennsylvania Bar Foundation. Payments can be made securely online by using a credit card. The online invoice also can be printed by those wishing to mail a payment by check to the PBA.

For unit counties, the combined invoice for annual dues in local and the state bar associations will continue to be issued and collected by the local bar association.

PBA requests unit county members to add, update or confirm their email addresses and other vital membership information by visiting the PBA website at www.pabar.org, clicking on "Member Login" (located in the upper right corner of the screen) and entering their username and password. The unit county member then can go to the "My Dashboard" area to revise membership information.

Any unit county member who prefers to receive a printed invoice for PBA section membership dues and other PBA contributions should contact the PBA at 800-932-0311. Unit county members will not receive a printed and mailed copy from PBA unless they request it.

2015 Arthur J. Birdsall Impact Grant Awarded to the Butler County Bar Association Foundation

The Butler County Bar Association Foundation received a $300 grant from the Arthur J. Birdsall Impact Grant Program to support the newly formed foundation's inaugural event to be held in November on "Small Business Saturday."

The occasion will provide an opportunity to promote the new foundation and its focus on preserving and enhancing public trust in the legal system and the legal profession by promoting good works that advance the local system of justice and help the county's children and families. The Birdsall Impact Grant will help offset the costs associated with the event and help the Butler County Bar Association Foundation develop marketing materials and resources to promote their law-related educational initiatives.

The Birdsall Impact Grant Program seeks to assist county bar associations and foundations in the furtherance of a charitable, educational or pro bono program or project or the enhancement of an existing charitable, educational or pro bono program or project that is consistent with the Pennsylvania Bar Foundation's educational and access to justice mission and succeeds in making an immediate impact on the way the county bar operates in service to its members, its court and its community. Recipients share in a grant(s) totaling not more than $1,000. The program is open to all bar associations, with consideration given to those with limited means.

If your county bar association or foundation is interested in applying for grants funds, please complete the Birdsall County Bar Impact Grant Application. The deadline for submission is April 8, 2016. The successful applicant(s) will be notified in writing on or before May 2, 2016, and the grants will be awarded during the Annual Meeting of the Foundation Board of Directors and Members on May 12, 2016 in Hershey, PA in conjunction with the 2016 Annual Meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar Association.

Sheraton Harrisburg-Hershey Hotel

Tony Mauro

Joe Curcillo

The Pennsylvania Bar Foundation's annual NightOUT takes a new turn this year with an evening dedicated to timely commentary and astonishing feats.

The keynote commentary will be provided by veteran U.S. Supreme Court correspondent Tony Mauro. Mauro is U.S. Supreme Court correspondent for The National Law Journal and Legal Times. He has covered the Supreme Court for 35 years, first for Gannett News Service and USA TODAY and then, since 2000, for Legal Times, The National Law Journal and now Supreme Court Brief, a subscription newsletter about the court. Washingtonian magazine has twice included Mauro on its list of the top 50 journalists in Washington. He is a longtime member of the steering committee of the Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press, and in 2010 was inducted into the Freedom of Information Hall of Fame in recognition of his advocacy for openness in courts and other institutions.

The astonishing feats will be provided by mentalist, entertainer and national top 100 trial lawyer Joe Curcillo, the MindShark. Curcillo has performed for over 30 years into all types of venues. From Vegas casinos to New York corporate offices to Caribbean Resorts to cheap motels in Des Moines, but his favorite place is in YOUR head! While you are on his mind trip, he truly wants you to enjoy the ride. You don't have to keep your hands and feet in the vehicle, and you won't have time to ask "Mom, are we there yet?" But when you least expect it, you will be asking: "Holy ESP Batman, is he really reading minds?"

In addition to the stellar commentary and entertainment, the evening includes social time with cash bar, a three course meal with a choice of entrees, and time for fellowship and camaraderie.

Tickets are $100, $30 of which qualifies as a charitable contribution to the Pennsylvania Bar Foundation! The net proceeds of the event support the statewide loan repayment assistance program that works to make a public service career more affordable for those attorneys who provide direct civil legal services to Pennsylvania's most vulnerable through one of the 39 IOLTA-funded civil legal services organizations across Pennsylvania.

Allegheny County

Retention Election Campaign Underway

The Allegheny County Bar Association has launched its 2015 judicial retention election campaign.

Eight Allegheny County Court of Common Pleas judges have reached the end of their initial 10-year terms on the bench and are up for retention on Nov. 3; all eight have been endorsed by ACBA membership.

So that qualified retention candidates can focus on their judicial duties rather than on campaigning, the ACBA's Judicial Excellence Committee is running their campaigns for them, just as it has done for the past 45 years.

The campaign is run under the auspices of the ACBA's Judicial Excellence Committee. It is funded by the ACBA PAC and includes contributions from the candidates, as well as attorneys, law firms and others from throughout the county.

Centralizing the efforts into one campaign reduces the cost for each judge; an "umbrella campaign" is far more efficient than candidates running their own individual campaigns.

Additionally, the centralized campaign reduces the overall cost to ACBA members. Judges who participate in the campaign agree to not participate in any other fund solicitation or campaign activities, meaning local attorneys will be approached for donations only by the ACBA, not by multiple campaigning judges.

This year's retention candidates include: the Hon. Edward J. Borkowski, Hon. Thomas E. Flaherty, Hon. Kathryn M. Hens-Greco, Hon. Alan D. Hertzberg, Hon. Beth A. Lazzara, Hon. Anthony M. Mariani, Hon. Donna Jo McDaniel and Hon. Dwayne D. Woodruff.

Allegheny County IGE/WLD Business Development Summit

Are rainmakers born or made? That was the theme of the keynote speech by Patricia K. Gillette at the third annual Business Development Summit for Women Attorneys hosted by the Allegheny County Bar Association's Institute for Gender Equality and Women in the Law Division. The July 23 event was held in downtown Pittsburgh and attended by 110 women attorneys who practice law throughout Western Pennsylvania.

Gillette, senior counsel in the employment law group at Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe in San Francisco, is the co-founder of the Opt-In Project, a 2006 nationwide initiative focused on changing the structure of law firms to increase the retention and advancement of women in the profession.

Gillette shared the results of a groundbreaking study focused on identifying the characteristics that make rainmakers successful. Her presentation included a keynote speech, panel discussion with successful business developers from law firms and in-house legal department, and breakout sessions. The half-day program explored the research and provided practical tools for developing and honing the important traits that lead to business development success.

Panelists included Hannah Thompson Frank, partner at McGuireWoods LLP; Susan M. Hollingsworth, associate general counsel at The Bank of New York Mellon; William Campbell Ries, shareholder at Tucker Arensberg; and Stephanie Scullo, associate general counsel and director of litigation at MSA Safety.

The Cumberland County Bar Foundation hosted a dedication ceremony and reception on Sept. 9 to celebrate the restoration of judge and juror chairs in the Ceremonial Courtroom of the Old Courthouse in downtown Carlisle, Cumberland County.

The keynote speakers for the ceremony were the Honorable M.L. Ebert, Judge of the Cumberland County Court of Common Pleas, and Robert E. Rains, Professor Emeritus of the Penn State Dickinson School of Law. Cumberland County Commissioner Jim Hertzler also delivered remarks representing the county.

The recognition of the judge and juror chairs restoration is the culmination of a two-year project. Originally purchased in 1880 from I. W. Wisler & Son of Philadelphia, the finished pieces consist of 12 juror and two judge chairs, which were meticulously restored by Roy A. Lindstrom, owner of Lindstrom Furniture Restorations of Carlisle.

Built in 1846, the Old Cumberland County Courthouse is a brick structure with an impressive bell-and-clock tower and sandstone columns. It remained in use until the modern courthouse opened across the street in 1962 and now houses county offices and the Old Courtroom is used for overflow when necessary. It was the site of several celebrated events in the years before the Civil War, including the Kaufman Trial, the McClintock Riot, and the public meetings held in the weeks before hostilities broke out. The well-kept structure remains a fine example of 19th century public building and its upper floor houses one of the best preservations of a 19th century courtroom in the United States.

Lackawanna County

The Lackawanna Bar Association purchased a building at 233 Penn Ave. in downtown Scranton. The building will be renovated before the association moves from its current building at 338 N. Washington Avenue. It is the first time the 125-year-old organization will own its headquarters.

This committee took its inaugural trip to Cuba last year, returning to give their members a one-hour CLE program that was well received. This year, the members who traveled to Scandinavia will provide another one-hour CLE session at the Association's Annual Bench-Bar conference. Approximately 350 members are expected to attend. This year's conference will be held on Thursday, Nov. 5 at the Mohegan Sun Conference Center. New "Bar Guide" Program Promotes Active Member Engagement

The Montgomery Bar recently launched a new "Bar Guide" program aimed at promoting an even more active and engaged membership. Unlike traditional mentor programs, the MBA's new program requires a minimal investment of time and no long-term commitment. Rather, the program implores active members to provide a warm, friendly welcome to its new members. According to independent feedback from both bar guides and new members, the program is showing early signs of success for the organization's already vibrant membership engagement efforts.

Simple as it might sound, each bar guide volunteer is paired with a new member who shares the same area of practice, geographic setting or another common connection. Bar guides are then responsible for making a personal introduction and inviting their respective new member to two events throughout the year — one complimentary one-hour CLE or Committee/Section meeting and one of the following social events: the Annual Business Luncheon, the Annual Dinner Dance, the Annual Clambake or the Annual Membership Dinner. Under the guise of the program, the first of these events will be offered free of charge to the new member, courtesy of the MBA. According to MBA President Bruce Pancio, "Becoming a Bar Guide, in essence, requires simply that you remember what it felt like to be searching for that familiar face in the crowd...and to become that face for someone who will soon be making contributions to the betterment of YOUR association."

Schuylkill County

Schuylkill County Bar Association Celebrates Its 100th Anniversary

On May 1, 2015, the Schuylkill County Bar Association held a banquet to celebrate its 100th anniversary. The celebration was attended by approximately 101 Bar Members and guests.

According to the records, the Schuylkill County Law Association was formed on March 8, 1902, with approximately 20 members. A few years later, at a meeting on April 19, Charles Berger was chosen as Chairman and Daniel Kaercher as Secretary. At that meeting, by motion, duly seconded, the Members voted to form the Schuylkill County Bar Association, and, on May 1, 1915, the organization became known as such.

In 1915, the original constitution provided for a chancellor, a vice-chancellor, a treasurer, and a secretary, as well as a committee of five persons to be called the Board of Censors. The Censors were charged with investigating and hearing all charges of disorderly or unprofessional behavior. The annual membership dues for the year was $5. We've come a long way since May 1, 1915.

The Association has hosted several "War Stories" luncheons where "seasoned" members are invited to share some of their stories. As you can imagine, one story leads to another and another. These "war stories" will continue throughout the rest of the year in celebration of our 100th anniversary.
